DETAILS OF PROCEDURE/TREATMENT

(Descriptive information about the specific procedure(s)/treatment(s) being performed)

Procedure/Treatment Description

In most cases, local anesthetic (drug causing loss of feeling in a small area) will be injected with a small needle. The physician may then sew the wound closed in a single layer with a small needle and suture (stitch). Alternatively, small wounds may be closed with skin glues or strong tape. In less cosmetically sensitive areas, a small sterile stapler may be used to close the skin.

Diagnosis

Lacerations (cuts) or following the surgical removal of a skin lesion

Benefits of treatment(s) or procedure(s)

Following repair, the open skin wound should be closed. The area will then heal in one to two weeks, after which the closure material can be removed.

Reasonable risk / complications of surgical treatment(s) or procedure(s)

- * Bleeding.
- * Infection.
- * Healing or scarring that could be disfiguring or painful.
- * Recurrence.
- * Need for additional treatment or surgery.
- * Damage to nerves and underlying structures.
- * Anesthetic complications, if applicable.

Additional Risks Discussed (if applicable):

Alternatives to surgical treatment(s) procedures(s)

Small wounds may be observed and allowed to heal on their own without any closure. Larger or more complicated wounds may require more advanced closure techniques such as intermediate repairs, complex repairs, skin flaps, or skin grafts.

Prognosis if not treatment is received

If no closure is performed, the area may not heal, or may heal very slowly. Scarring may also be much worse if no closure is performed.

Blood Transfusion (if applicable): Transfusion not expected
